

2020 Healthy People, Healthy Communities Investment Model

COVID-19 Emergency Relief Funds

Invested $300,000 into shared COVID-19 emergency relief funds in Idaho, Oregon, Utah and Washington. These funds have the ability to leverage resources to rapidly deploy directly to those most in need and combat health and safety issues as they emerge and include the Oregon Community Foundation (statewide); Seattle Foundation (Seattle Metro); Philanthropy Northwest (Washington State outside of Seattle Metro); Idaho Community Foundation (Fund in partnership with statewide United Way agencies and Idaho Nonprofit Center); and United Way of Salt Lake (partnership with United Way of Utah County and United Way of Northern Utah).

Community Health Center Crisis Response and Recovery Initiative

Federally Qualified Health Centers are the backbone of the primary care safety net. These community-based nonprofit health centers are driven by trusted providers who deliver whole person care and address health disparities with solutions that eliminate gaps and increase access to quality health care.

The Cambia Health Foundation is providing a total of $1 million to Oregon Primary Care Association, Washington Association for Community Health, Association for Utah Community Health, and Idaho Primary Care Association to support community health centers across their states, combat emerging health and safety issues and ultimately play a vital role in their communities' recovery.

Future Opportunities

Additional investments focused on recovery efforts are anticipated later in the year with priority in the Pacific Northwest (Oregon, Washington), Idaho, and Utah. If this includes any Request for Proposal funding opportunities, they will be posted on our web site and communicated through multiple channels including Twitter and Foundation updates. Our intent is to issue additional Whole Person Care Request for Proposals with our 2021 grant budget. Note: To receive these updates please submit your email at the bottom of our home page.

We invite you to read a message from Foundation President, Peggy Maguire on Cambia Health Foundation's commitment to listening, learning, and acting to address systemic racism. This includes a commitment to place racial justice at the center of a philanthropic approach to transforming the health care system. This message can be accessed via the home page of our website.
